LACK OF ADEQUATE
FUND MAY PREVENT
DRIVE ON MOSQUITO

Anti-Malaria Work To Go By Boards Unless
Money Is Raised

HOPE STILL HELD
FUND BE RAISED

Cities and County Will Be Asked To Give
Small Amounts

It is unlikely that there will be any anti-mosquito campaign conducted in Morgan county this summer, it was stated at the offices of the Morgan County Health unit today.

Lack of adequate funds to conduct the campaign was assigned as the reason.

Last year a very successful campaign was conducted and more than half of the population of Morgan county was protected against the malaria mosquito. The greater part of the fund expended in this work, however, came from savings which the health unit had effected in its operating cost. This fund is not available this year, it was said.

Hope has been expressed that the county board of revenue the cities of Albany, Decatur and Hartselle would each appropriate a comparatively small sum to make up the total of some $800, which would defray the cost of the campaign.

The anti-tuberculosis association also may be persuaded to assist in the work, health officers pointing out that anti-malaria work is, in one way, also anti-tuberculosis, inasmuch as malaria saps vitality, and lowered vitality hastens the development of tuberculosis.

If the county and the three larger municipalities in the county will appropriate small amounts, health officials are in position to inaugurate the campaign against malaria at once, it was said.

NAVY PERSONNEL
FOR FLIGHT PICKED

Department Arranges
To Participate In
Dash to Arctics

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Lieutenant A. M. Schur, of Portland, Ore., and Chief Boatswain Earl E. Rever, of San Diego, Calif., were selected by the navy department today to accompany Lieutenant Commander Richard E. Byrd, of Winchester, Pa., on the McMillan arctic exploration expedition this summer.

The three officers and three enlisted men will comprise the flying personnel of the expedition. Andrew N.
Nold, of Nappanee, Ind., and N. T.
Sorensen, of Michigan, chief machinist mates, have been selected as two of the enlisted men.

The third enlisted man to make the flight will be named soon.

Letsons Remanded
To Jail By Court

MOULTON, Ala., April 18.—Special
—By action of the state a preliminary trial was held Friday for Floyd and Jim Rowe Letson, charged with the killing of Sam Moats, and held in the county jail since the killing on March 15.

The defendant waived trial but was overruled by the court who held that the state could demand a preliminary trial. The state was represented by Oscar Chenauff of Albany. The defense refused to plead guilty or not guilty or to show their hand in any way; the state took all evidence possible. The Letsons are charged with killing Moats as he was passing near the home of one of them; evidence tended to show that Moats was shot seventeen times with weapons of different caliber.

The defendants were remanded to jail without bond.

FRENCH VETERANS WILL OPPOSE
RETURN OF CAILLAUX TO POWER

(Associated Press)

PARIS, April 18.—It was announced this afternoon that the Association of French War Veterans were organizing a demonstration for this evening at the tomb of the unknown soldier, in protest against "the return of Caillaux to power."

PARIS, April 18.—France's new premier, M. Painleve, is devoting most of his time and all of his skill to preparation of the ministerial statement which, after its approval by the cabinet Monday, will be read in Parliament Tuesday.

Upon the contents of this document depends the new government's future.

SERVICES CLOSED
AT AUSTINVILLE

Sixty Are Added In
Two Weeks Drive
By Baptists

The revival campaign that has been in progress at the Austinville Baptist church for the past two weeks was successfully brought to a close Friday night when the evangelist, Reverend E. Floyd Olive, inspired his hearers in one of the most effective addresses of the entire campaign.

The results of the campaign have been very gratifying to the church and to the interested workers, said Reverend Olive today. "Sixty members have been added to the church in the Austinville section, forty-seven to the Baptist faith and thirteen to the other churches. We are well pleased with the services."

Much of the success of the campaign was attributed to the splendid musical programmes, the result of the efforts of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Johnson who worked untiringly during the period of services. The meetings were held both on the morning and in the evening at the Austinville church.

CHARLES EBBETT'S
DIES IN NEW YORK

President of Brooklyn
National League
Club Succumbs

(Associated Press)
NEW YORK, April 18.—Charles H.
Ebbetts, president of the Brooklyn
National league baseball club died here at six o'clock this morning. He was 66 years old.

Death came quietly. Mr. Ebbetts had fallen into a deep sleep at 11 o'clock last night and did not wake during the night. No one was at the bedside at the time of his death, but a few minutes after he died, the nurse attending him entered the room.

Heart failure, from which he has been a sufferer for many years, overcame a brave fight by the baseball magnate to continue in the game which he has helped to make nationally popular through his long connection with the Brooklyn club.

Mr. Ebbetts came to New York
two weeks ago from the Florida training camp of the Brooklyn team, where he had sought relief and was believed to have been benefitted.

He suffered a relapse yesterday and physicians last night reported he was growing steadily weaker and held forth little hope for him to recover.
Mr. Ebbetts first broke into the game in 1893 as bookkeeper for the old Brooklyn club. Step by step he rose filling various offices, until in 1899 he became president of the club. It was he who saved the situation when various influences were at work to take the national league franchise out of Brooklyn.

Trial For Woman
Is Held In Jail

(Associated Press)

CROWN POINT, Ind., April 18.—
Mrs. Anna Cunningham, Gary, Ind., widow, who has confessed she killed three of her children by poison, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Hemp in her cell today as she lay on a cot, and was bound over to the criminal court of Lake County, without bail, on the charge of first degree murder.

BAPTISTS TO MAKE
LOYALTY OFFERING

Special Contribution Is Asked of Members
On Sunday

The leaders of the Southern Baptist convention are calling on all Southern Baptists to make a special Loyalty offering during the month of April.
The town and city churches are requested to make that offering on Sunday April 19th.

While a larger amount of money has been received during the past months than in the same period of the year before there have been so many special designations to individual objects many of the institutions and causes are suffering great financial distress at this time.

The success of the $75,000,000 campaign caused an advance along all lines but this success has caused great embarrassment as the gifts from the churches have not kept pace with the enlarged program. An example is seen in the enlarged number of aged and infirm ministers, widows and orphans cared for by the Relief and Annuity board. The lack of funds since January first has caused the officers of the board to borrow money and to reduce the pittance paid the old ministers to a small sum per month.

To relieve this financial stress on all the educational, and benevolent institutions and mission causes every Baptist is asked to make a special offering Sunday. A great ingathering is expected in Alabama as well as all other Southern States. This will enable the State Secretaries and secretaries of the man boards to make a much more encouraging report when the Southern Baptist Convention
meets at Memphis, May 12th.

Bubonic Plague
Believed Found

(Associated Press)

HAVANA, April 18.—A health department messenger arrived here today from Cienfuegos, bringing a sample of the blood of a sailor suspected of having bubonic plague.

The man is a member of the crew of the steamer Cabo Tunta, which arrived at Cienfuegos several days ago from Bangkok, Siam.

The ship has been quarantined and all communication with the shore for-bidden.

Big Still Taken
By Raiding Party

A copper still of 120 gallon capacity was seized yesterday by a party of raiding officers near Brown's Ferry, according to information made public here today. Two men escaped.

The party captured the still, 20 barrels of beer and 50 gallons of liquor. The party was composed of:
V. S. Root, government prohibition officer, Bob Stewart, I. G. Brown and G. H. Jennings.

Attorneys Freed In Bond Theft Case

(Associated Press)

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 18.— Wallace Davis and Tom Poe, attoneys, were acquitted by a federal court jury here today on charges of possessing and concealing $100,000 worth of stolen bonds, part of the loot of the $2,000,000 Rondout, Ill., train robbery.
The jury was out an hour and 15 minutes.

Similar indictments are pending against two men in Chicago.

Bulgarian Government
Moves To Prevent
More Outbreaks

STREET TRAFFIC
NOW SUSPENDED

Patrols of Soldiers On
All Thoroughfares
As City Mourns

(Associated Press)

LONDON, April 18.—The death list from the bomb outrage in the Sveti Kral cathedral at Sofia Thursday has reached 160, including five members of the Bulgarian parliament it is stated in official dispatches received here today.

Many of the wounded are expected to die.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, April 18.—
The Bulgarian government is taking extraordinary measures to prevent any further developments of the terroristic campaign marked by the attempt against King Boris and the bombing of the cathedral with a loss of 160 lives.

Large numbers of communists and extremists have been arrested and it is reported that a number of communists were killed during the night, this resulting from the feeling against them engendered by the outrage.

Having proclaimed martial law yesterday, the government has ordered a house to house search of all Sofia.
Street traffic is prohibited and patrols of soldiers and police pass incessantly. The city is in mourning and all the stores are closed.

"The possibility of an armed uprising is discounted but further outrages against persons and property are not unlikely and the authorities are taking all possible precautions."

Two boxes of explosives and automatic pistols are reported to have been found at a railroad station on the Paris-Constantinople railroad route. It is believed they were to have been used in destroying a big bridge nearby.

The orthodox Easter will be a sad holiday for the inhabitants of Sofia, especially the relatives of the cathedral victims. Almost all the dead have terrible wounds about the head and shoulders, making identification difficult.

No foreigners are believed to have been in the edifice when the outrage occurred.

Patterson Named
On School Board

John Patterson was elected by the Albany city council last night as a member of the school board to succeed himself.

Mr. Patterson's term expired some weeks ago and upon his insistence that his name not be considered for re-election, H. E. McKelvey was elected a member of the board. Mr. Mc-Kelvey, however, declined to serve, and Mr. Patterson then withdrew his previously expressed opposition to his re-election, and reluctantly agreed to permit his name to go before the council again.

Given 22 Years
For Wife Murder

(Associated Press)

WHEATON, Ill., April 18.—George W. Munding, a riding master, today was found guilty by a jury of the murder of Mrs. Julia Abb Douglas, once his common law wife, and fixed his punishment at imprisonment for 22 years.

The jury had been out since yesterday afternoon. Munding's eyes were moist as he heard the pronoun-cement that he was guilty and must spend 22 years in the penitentiary but he did not break down as he had done several times during the trial.

CAR RECOVERED

The automobile of Ben Miller, well known local cotton man, reported stolen early today, has been recovered on the Courtland pike, it was stated later. The car had been left by Mr. Miller at the garage.

EVANGELIST WILL OPEN SERIES
OF SERVICES AT FIRST BAPTIST

DR. J. CLARENCE LACKEMBY

Dr. J. Clarence Lackemby, pastor of the First Baptist church, of Troy, Ala., will open a series of revival services at the Decatur Baptist church

Sunday morning. Rev. Lackemby is one of the best known Baptist ministers in the state and large crowds are expected to hear him.

MISS LANIER WINS
ORATORY CONTEST

Will Represent The 8th District On Next Friday

Miss Ethel Lanier was declared the winner in the oratorical contest held at the Decatur high school auditorium on Friday night and by virtue of this victory will represent the Eighth District at Birmingham on Friday April 24th in the state wide contest. Miss Lanier defeated Perry Patterson, the representative of Jackson County the only other contestant.

M. K. Clements, superintendent of education for Limestone county, B. B.
Glasgow, president of Athens Woman's College and Reverend Thomas Tyler, pastor of the First Methodist church of Athens were the judges in the contest as Limestone county had no contestant entered. Mr. Clements presided and conducted the contest.

Miss Lanier will be presented a gold medal for her victory scored in the eighth district. She had previously defeated Edward Spurlock, the Albany high school contestant. Miss Lanier will meet the best that the state has to offer in high school boys and girls when the state wide contest is held in Birmingham on next Friday.

The contests are being fostered by the newspapers throughout the country and have revived the interest in the constitution of the United States which is the general subject selected by each student.

Only a moderate crowd heard the contest at the high school auditorium last night.

Mr. Knobloch Dies
At Home Suddenly

Funeral services will be held Monday morning at nine o'clock at St.
Ann's Catholic church for Sigismund Knobloch, aged 48 years, who died very suddenly Friday afternoon at his home near 5:15 o'clock. It is said that Mr. Knobloch was working in the yard in front of his home when the fatal attack occurred. He died very shortly after in his home after medical assistance was of no avail.

Mr. Knobloch had been employed by the Louisville and Nashville railroad for a number of years as a machinist. The deceased is survived by his wife and five children.

The following will act as pallbearers: James Coutsas, Harry Miles, J.
C. Whelan, Alvie Karter, Lawrence
Otte and Sim Otte.

The remains of the respected citizen will be laid to rest in the city cemetery.

PASSPORT PUZZLE
DECISION DELAYED

Married Women Want
Maiden Names On Travel Paper

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The state department has deferred decision on a request that married women be given passports in their maiden name.

A delegation of the National Woman's Party brought up the question in the case of Mrs. Herbert Little, a newspaper writer, who wanted a permit under her maiden name of Ruby Black and in this specific case, the request was granted under the stipulation that her husband's name also should appear.

It was explained that the custom is to issue passport to married women under their maiden names, when they wished to use such names for professional purposes, provided the husband's name and the prefix "Mrs."
appears on the document.

Many actresses, opera singers and others are granted passports in this way.

Hartselle Works
On Legion Drive

The first report came in from Hartselle this morning on the American Legion Endowment drive. This little city is the first reporting district outside of Albany-Decatur thus far in the drive.

The reporting officer from Hartselle stated that the work had just begun and Legion officials here are confident that the southern section of the county will yet play a great part in pushing Morgan County over the top for the $1,500 quota. The follow-

MILK ORDINANCE IS DEFEATED ON FINAL
READING BY COUNCIL

Aldermen Vote Six To
Two Against The
Grading Law

MORE TIME GIVEN
ON BOND ISSUE

Exposition Permitted
To Operate "Riding"
Devices at Show

The milk grading ordinance, which has been hanging fire several weeks in the Albany council was defeated Friday evening by the aldermanic body, six to two after a discussion which consumed about two hours.

The running debate for and against the measure was participated in by attorneys, members of the council, citizens and health officials, some of the speakers urging the final passage of the ordinance, while others vehemently opposed it.

The report of the committee, approving the ordinance had previously been adopted five to three, but on the vote for final passage of the act, it was defeated by a majority of four.

W. W. Rahm representing the chamber of commerce, appeared before the council and requested permission for the exposition to operate a feris wheel and merry-go-round during the show. The permission was granted.

A petition from citizens of South Albany, asking for installation of street lights on Ninth and Tenth streets was not approved.

Citizens of East Albany desiring to cultivate sections in that ward, which were said to be a part of a street, were refused the council's permission.

The proposed new tax ordinance was held in abeyance until the next meeting.

The committee was given further time in the matter of advertising for sale the $50,000 bond issue recently voted for the bridge.

The petition of citizens in East Albany for construction of cement side walks in that ward, east of the Somerville road, was referred to the street committee.

A letter from Miss Jennie Perkins complaining that the recent "changes in the course" of Dry Creek was damaging her property was referred to the superintendent of streets, Mr. Adcock, with instructions to try to remedy the situation complained of.

The milk grading ordinance already has been adopted in Decatur, and Dr.
H. C. McRee, county health officer, stated today that dairymen supplying milk in Decatur will be requested to apply for permits.

THREE INDICTED ON
CHARGE OF MURDER

(Associated Press)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 18.—
D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan and his two alleged companions, Earl Klinek and Earl Gentry, were indicted on a charge of first degree murder today by the Marion County grand jury, which has been investigating the death
last Tuesday of Madge Oberholtzer, 28, of Indianapolis.

The murder charge is based on the allegation that the three men failed to provide medical attention for Miss Oberholtzer at Hammond, Ind., following an attack which she declared was made on her by Stephenson.

M. J. Mitchell Is Elected By Council

M. J. Mitchell, who has been serving as traffic officer of the city of Albany for several weeks, under a temporary appointment, last night formally was elected traffic officer by the council, receiving a unanimous vote.

Mr. Mitchell was given the place several weeks ago, when John Allison resigned to return to Huntsville. His election last night by the council was taken by his friends as an endorsement of the record he made while serving in a temporary capacity.

Fraternal Union Holds Good Meet

Fraternal Aid Union, Royal Lodge 87, had a social meeting at the I. O. O. F. hall on Thursday night with a number of brothers from Birmingham, field forces and Merrimack Lodge with a number of guests present. An enjoyable musical programme was given.

The principal feature of the gathering was the rendition of a splendid musical programme. A nice piece orchestra, lead by Baxter Hartung and a four piece orchestra from Hartselle rendered a number of pleasing selections. A quartet composed of Messrs: Gardner, Shook, McCulloch and Gilliam added to this splendid programme. The programme was arranged by Laurie W. Mitchell, organizer and Leonard D. Stewart, district manager.

A delightful dinner was served in the dining hall. At the conclusion of the dinner the members and guests returned to the hall and heard a number of interesting addresses by members of all the lodges participating. J. D. Lighter state manager, was the principal speaker and told of the history of the union since its foundation. The speaker included the present standing in membership and the financial status of the organization. The musical programme was continued following the addresses by the members and officials.

THE BLUE CIRCLE

By ELIZABETH JORDAN

thin hands together, and looked past them into the fire.

"Useful? Yes, perhaps," he murmured. "If you had merely come to me for a situation. But this proposition—It's all very unsettling." He broke off. "Why wouldn't it do to accept a situation on salary?" he asked abruptly.

"Because if I did that I should live in terror of losing my job. No; I've got to fix things in another way. I've got to find a man who will take me on in such a binding fashion that he simply can't get rid of me."

"Humph!" Campbell stared into the flames. The caller watched him.

"What can you do?" the old man asked at last.

"Anything!" The word came from the caller's lips like a bullet.

Campbell shook his head. "Anything is nothing," he pointed out with sudden austerity. "What can you do, really, that is worth a salary?"

The young man flushed.

"I can keep accounts," he said doggedly. "I can act as secretary and general utility man, and guard your health. That's what Doctor Stanley especially wanted me to do," he remembered to add. "Look after you and see that you look after yourself. He said there were conditions just at present that were rather trying to you. He thought there ought to be a younger man here with you."

Campbell nodded. For the first time, he was impressed as well as interested. Starting as Renshaw's proposition had been, there must be something in it worth considering, or Stanley would not have advocated it in the strong letter he had written. Also, the reference to his health appealed to him.

"If it were merely a matter of engaging your services—" he murmured disinterestedly.

The other interrupted him.

"It's not that," he pointed out. "I could not consider for a moment the mere offer of a situation. Please remember the vital detail that I am asking you to buy me. For the next year I want to be your property as absolutely as if I were a bought slave. Also, try to remember that my obsession does not impair my ability in any way. Doctor Stanley guarantees that. I can be very useful to you if I am certain of my future for a year—if, in a phrase, my future is of my mind."

Campbell, his eyes still on the fire, again reflected. One point increasingly impressed him. Possibly this extraordinary young man could prolong his life. Stanley seemed to think so. At the thought his keen eyes took on a new expression. Deep in the heart of this worn-out human mechanism, and unsuspected by anyone but his physician, burned an almost abnormal passion to live on.

"All this," he said slowly, "is the most impossible thing I've ever listened to."

The visitor's glance dropped.

"I suppose so," he duly conceded. "I realize how it must sound to anyone else. But Doctor Stanley understood, and he hoped you would. It is just a form of nerve obsession, you see, sir," he patiently repeated. "A fear of life and of the future. If I merely had a job I should live in a panic. Whereas, if I were actually bought for a year, I'd be off my own mind; don't you see?"

"And on mine," Campbell dryly commented. "Yes, I see."

Again the young man flushed.

"It isn't as if I were useless," he murmured. "You will find that I can work like a horse. I'll do anything I'm told."

"Anything?" Campbell spoke with sudden meaning.

"Anything," the caller replied without hesitation.

The keen blue eyes of his host remained on his face.

"I see that you are at least in earnest," he conceded.

"It's a matter of life or death with me, Mr. Campbell."

Campbell hesitated.

"I might ask you to do some odd things," he hinted—"things you would not understand at first. The situation here just now is a trifle—abnormal. And I might not be able to explain for a few weeks certain matters not clear to a newcomer."

"I rather expect that, from a remark or two that Doctor Stanley dropped."

"And you are sure the kind of responsibility that attends working for another—perhaps more or less in the dark—would not worry you?" the old man asked curiously.

"Not a bit. You see, someone else is responsible for me, and I am certain of a bed, a roof over my head, and enough food to fill my stomach. I am"—his head dropped under the humiliation of the admission—"at the end of my resources."

"Your family?" Campbell began, after a moment's silence.

"So far as I know, I have not a relative in the world. But Doctor Stanley knows who my people were."

"Humph!" The word sounded ungracious; it was merely thoughtful.

"Doctor Stanley told me you really needed a secretary," Renshaw went on. "He thought there was no doubt you would give me a job, but he was not sure that you would buy me."

Campbell grimaced. "Oh, he wasn't he? Confound him!"

The last words broke from his lips before he could check them. He tried to drown them in a cough, but the visitor heard. For the third time he flushed, this time deeply and unbecomingly. Simultaneously as if moved by a spring, he rose.

"Mr. Campbell," he said formally. "I hope you will forgive me for troubling you. I realize what an unpardonable nuisance I have been and how wild my schemes must have sounded to you. A doctor, of course, would understand. Very few laymen could."

"Why had they repudiated him?"

I am grateful for the time you have given me, and I will not take any more of it. Good-night."

He held out his hand, and the other vail on his face lifted a trifle. After all, this would settle things, as he would not have to plan again!

"Wait a minute. Don't be in such a hurry!"

Campbell's voice was almost peevish. He struggled up from his chair, slow and with much difficulty, till he stood facing his caller. He had liked the young man's valdictory.

"Wait a minute," he repeated, in a different tone. "Do I understand you to say that Stanley actually approved of this mad notion of yours?"

"Yes, sir. He thinks I would be very useful to you. He repeated it again and again. I think so, Renshaw sedately added.

"How much salary do you want?" Renshaw corrected himself before the other could speak, he dropped his serious tone. "What price are you asking for this—ah—purchase you suggested?"

"Anything you choose. Fix the price yourself, and pay it in monthly installments if you like, or at the end of the year."

Renshaw spoke indifferently, as the dark veil that had temporarily lifted from his face again settled down. So it wasn't over, after all, he was reflecting.

"Three hundred dollars, payable twelve monthly installments of twenty-five dollars each?"

"Vampire Complexion" Is Natural, She Says

They say of a certain well known dancer that she has a "vampire complexion" it is so bewitchingly beautiful. Yet to intimate friends she has confided that she abhors make ups and that her complexion is really natural. Her secret is—ordinary meoelized wax. She spreads a thin coat of the wax over her face at night, without rubbing it in, and takes it off with warm water upon arising. This simple application actually absorbs the dread particles of scarf skin which daily appear, and a fair, soft, fresh, girlish skin is always in evidence. The complexion is kept perpetually young by preventing the accumulation of the aging and lifeless cuticle. As meoelized wax is obtainable at any drug store, and as an ounce is sufficient to rejuvenate even the worst complexion, anyone may enjoy the benefits of this remarkable beauty secret. There's nothing more effective for freckles, liver spots, moth patches, pimples and unwholesome skins generally.—Adv.

IN A FLORISTS WINDOW OPERETTA AT SCHOOL

One of the best of the spring entertainments given at the Central high school was the operetta entitled "In a Florist's Window" on Friday evening under the direction of Misses Ballentine and Brunson.

The first scene was in the window of a florist shop and the owners coming in and finding it empty began to replenish their stock.

First the roses, composed of a group of the students of the school attired in costumes representing roses, were ushered in and they were followed by the daffodils, the green bugs and the honey bees, one mustard blossom, the columbines, pansies and the violets. As each group entered they were greeted by a chorus.

A duet by the florists ended the program and in it they told of the happiness that each flower would bring cheer to the sick, sympathy to those who mourn and love from the lover to his sweetheart.

About seventy were included in the cast and these with the beautiful costumes and stage settings made it an unusually attractive playlet.

CHAPEL EXERCISES AT ALBANY SCHOOLS

The chapel exercises in the Central Albany schools were conducted by the pupils of the Sixth grade taught by Mrs. Brooks on Friday morning.

A pageant "Hot Lunch" was given, the feature of which was the orchestra under the direction of Elliott Simrell, the instruments used being kitchen utensils. Several numbers given included: "It ain't gonna rain No More" and "Jingle Bells." Another interesting number of the program was a solo by Miss Lois Preuit with accompaniments on a bell by Marvin Wells.

MISS GARNETT ON HONOR ROLL OF WILLIAMS SCHOOL

The following clipping taken from a Boston paper will be received with much gratification by friends here of Miss Garnett all of whom feel that it is a deserved honor. It is an especial one as she was selected from so many talented pupils.

The selection was based upon scholastic standing, leadership, loyalty to school and co-operative fellowship with the student body. These students will lead in all commencement events.

CANAL STREET ROOK CLUB

Mrs. Will Wyker was hostess at the meeting of the Canal street Rook Club on Friday afternoon when only club members were present.

The first club prize was awarded to Mrs. Leroy McEntire and the second to Miss Clara. Ice cream and cake were enjoyed at the conclusion of the usual number of Rook hands.

GIRL'S FISHING PARTY

Miss Mary Louise Green and Prof. Quinn chaperoned a crowd of high school girls of the Decatur schools on a fishing party today at Swan Lake.

Mrs. F. S. Hunt, Mrs. S. W. Irwin, Mrs. W. B. Markstein and Mrs. Arthur Jones have returned from Birmingham on Friday afternoon after a two days stay there attending the Presbyterial at the Woodlawn church.

YOUR HEALTH

Swamp Danger Is Due to Mosquitoes, Not Miasma

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D., United States Senator from New York, Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

NOT long ago the Senior Senator from Louisiana told me about the health conditions in his State. When he said the death rate there is materially less than in my State and most other States, I could hardly credit the statement. But on looking it up I found the Senator's story to be correct.

Louisiana has an able Health Commissioner and his hard work for good health has been rewarded. I congratulate him. He has made a wonderful record.

Some sections of America suffered a lot in the old days because the medical profession had not learned just how some diseases are carried. Malaria and yellow fever were chief of these.

When I was a medical student they used to talk about "miasms." It was believed that the atmosphere swarms contained some kind of a poison which affected the health.

Of course, we do not believe that any more. We know now that the proximity of the marsh lands was dangerous because they were the breeding place for mosquitoes. When one certain variety of this pest becomes infected with the poison of malaria, then the disease is carried from person to person, and very soon malaria is epidemic in the community.

We know, too, that flies and other insects carry disease. The only sure means of prevention of the insect-carried diseases is to get rid of the animal life. The winged insects are best dealt with by protective screening. Wherever mosquitoes and flies abound, the windows and doors should be screened. This is a very necessary health precaution. It is not alone because these little pests are disagreeable, but they are positively dangerous.

More and more society has come to realize that swamps must be drained. Stagnant water is a breeding place for mosquitoes. Likewise, offal and decaying vegetable matter are breeding places for flies.

This is the season of the year every householder and property owner should see to it that his land and surroundings are free from stagnant pools and made clean by the removal of all decaying material.

If attention is given to these matters early in the season and the possible breeding places are destroyed it will make a great difference in the number of insect pests which will swarm about you in the summer. If these precautions are neglected there may be serious illness in your household. It pays big dividends to watch over these little insects and to guard against their attacks.

Look Beyond the Rate of Interest---

when borrowing money to finance a home

The interest rate of the New Morgan County Building and Loan Association plan of home finance may be higher than some other plans. But interest is only ONE of the costs. There are the legal costs of making the loan. It is the consideration of ALL the costs which show the building and loan plan to be more economical.

No matter what amount is borrowed under our plan, the only cost for appraisal of property, examination of title, recording of mortgage and payment of record tax is a nominal fee of $15. There are no commissions.

Under other plans there is a commission to be paid on the amount of the loan, cost of having property appraised, attorney's fees for examination of title, cost of recording mortgage and a record tax of $1.50 per $1,000 borrowed. All this is deducted from the amount of the loan applied for.

Before you borrow money on your property, have a talk with us. We will gladly tell you more about the economies and advantages of our plan. See J. W. Cunningham at the City National Bank or any other officer of the association.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION
B. B. Baggerly vs.
Emma K. Baird et al.
Circuit Court, Morgan County, Alabama, in equity.
In this cause, it appears to the register from the affidavit of complainant, that Raymond Fenn, Helen C. Fenn, Bula Tuthill and Arthur Logan defendants are non-residents of Alabama, over 21 years of age, and that the residence and post office address of each of said defendants are unknown, after diligent effort to learn the same. It is therefore ordered by the register that publication be made once a week for four consecutive weeks in the Albany-Decatur Daily, a newspaper published in Morgan County, requiring said defendants to plead, answer or demur to the amended bill of complaint in this cause by May 10, 1925, or in thirty days thereafter a decree pro confesso may be taken against them.

BILIOUS ATTACKS

From Which Kentucky Man Suffered Two or Three Times a Month, Relieved by Black-Draught.

Lawrenceburg, Ky.—Mr. J. P. Nevins, a local coal dealer and farmer, about two years ago learned of the value of Theford's Black-Draught liver medicine, and now he says:

"Until then I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month. I would get nauseated. I would have dizziness and couldn't work."

"I would take pills until I was worn-out with them. I didn't seem to get relief. After taking the pills my bowels would act a couple or three times, then I would be very constipated."

"A neighbor told me of Black-Draught and I began its use. I never have found so much relief as it gave me. I would not be without it for anything."

"It seemed to cleanse my whole system and make me feel like new. I would take a few doses—got rid of the bile and have my usual clear head, feel full of 'pep' and could do twice the work."

One cent a dose. NC-161

Smaller Cities In District Start Their Activities on the Diamond, Why Not Here?

Athens, Huntsville, Hartselle, Florence almost any city that you may happen to mention have started their 1925 diamond careers. Each one of these cities are turning out good all round semi-pro clubs and are all set for a good baseball season.

Albany and Decatur has a splendid plan for amateur games in the forming of the four team circuit. This circuit opens on May 1st and people will be interested probably for the first two weeks, then the interest will lag. Why? Because the teams are not strong enough to hold the interest. Give the folks fairly good baseball and they will come out to the games.

The one difficulty with a local talent circuit is that it isn't fast enough. Each team gets a percent of the best baseball talent and as a consequence not one of the teams is strong enough to turn back an invasion of outside teams.

Why not start a semi-pro circuit? Albany-Decatur is sufficiently interested in baseball to support a circuit of this sort. To enter into a regular league of organized baseball will cost a great deal more than the support will warrant, but the folks can support a team of lower price players.

These cities may as well get into the swim with the rest of the cities and towns of the section. Keep the four team industrial circuit going by all means, but get the faster team going so that a better class of baseball may be given the home.

Any suggestion along this line will be appreciated. The Daily will be glad to publish material for or against this plan.

AMUSEMENTS

An Ibanez story with a perfect cast!

"Argentine Love," written directly for motion pictures by the greatest of all Spanish novelists Vicente Blasco Ibanez author of "The Four Horsemen," "Blood and Sand," "Enemies of Women," etc., is a picture with a true-to-type cast if there ever was one.

Everything about the picture is Spanish, and how could one start off better than by the selection of Bebe Daniels and Ricardo Cortez for the principal roles!

Dark-haired, dark-eyed Bebe plays a lovely Spanish senorita, confronted with the old, yet ever-new problem of making a choice between two men—one, played by Cortez, a wealthy young South American who has helped her parents financially and asked her hand in return for the favor, the other a handsome American engineer, Bebe as Consuelo Garcia, meets while at school in the States, James Rennie has this role.

Cortez within the past few months has risen to an enviable position as the screen's younger leading man. His role in "Argentine Love" is one of his own nationality. Rennie recently seen in the Broadway stage hit, "The Best People," looks every inch the character he portrays.

Miss Daniels and Cortez are featured in "Argentine Love," which will be shown next Monday and Tuesday at the Princess theater. Rennie heads the strong cast playing in support.

Others in prominent roles include Mario Majeroni, last seen with Gloria Swanson in "Her Love Story," Aure-
